

FIRST TEST OF STRENGTH ON LANTZ BILL

DOWN STATE KILLS EVERY ATTEMPT TO AMEND THE BILL

After Amendments are Killed the Measure is Advanced to the Third Reading—Women's Minimum Wage Law is Reported Out by Industrial Relations Committee

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, May 10.—The first test of strength on the Lantz Grain Exchange bills came in the senate tonight when on three roll calls Senator Lantz and his downstate colleagues temporarily defeated attempts by Cook county senators to amend the bills.

The bill placing regulation of grain exchanges in the hands of the state department of agriculture was sent to third reading. The measure prohibiting dealing in futures remained on the order of second reading until tomorrow when Cook county senators said they will have amendments to offer.

On the first roll call four senators from outside of Cook county—Hicks of Winnebago; Meents of Iroquois; Swift of Lake and Wheeler of Sangamon—voted with the Chicago men.

RESOLUTION IS CONDEMNATION OF HARDING'S ACTION

Offered in Senate Late Tuesday by Senator LaFollette

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A resolution condemning President Harding's action in the appointment of American representatives to the allied councils in Europe, was introduced in the senate late today by Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin.

Senator LaFollette's resolution, the first open outbreak of Republican dissatisfaction with the administration policy, proposed a declaration by the senate "that it is contrary to American ideals and traditions for the government of the United States to participate in any manner" in the allied councils.

The Wisconsin senator introduced his resolution after assurance had been given to President Harding today that there was little criticism among Republican senators over the appointments and that the opposition of a small number of Republican senators was not serious.

The resolution called attention to the refusal of the senate to approve the treaty of Versailles or to sanction the league of nations; declared that American participation in the allied policies abroad would be an acceptance of their "imperialistic policies."

Preparations of the resolution declared the Versailles treaty "a crime born of blind revenge and insatiable greed and constitutes a betrayal of the solemn promises of this government made to the world and formally accepted by the allies as the basis of the peace terms." It also was declared that "barbarous and uncivilized warfare is now being waged against the people of Ireland."

Senator LaFollette had his resolution read and asked that it lie over in position for discussion in a few days.

Reports of developments in the European situation were received at the state department today from Ambassador Wallace, the unofficial representative of the American government sitting with the conference of ambassadors, and from Roland W. Boyden, who is sitting unofficially with the reparations commission. Officials generally expressed satisfaction with the first results from what was characterized as the government's system of diplomatic listening posts.

BIDDING PRICES ARE STILL KEPT UP

New York, May 10.—Despite the breaking up of material combinations prices are still kept up, the Builders' Association of Manhattan charged in meeting today. The association, made up of old time builders, appointed a committee to attend the Chicago housing convention next Tuesday.

Building brick, which sold for $10 a thousand during the peak of prices a year ago has gone up to $14.40, it was said. Before the war the same brick sold for $19 per thousand.

EFFORT TO REVISE REPRESENTATION OF SOUTH IS OPPOSED

Republican National Chairman Says it is Ill Timed

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 10.—Charles D. Hilles, Republican national chairman from New York and former national convention chairman, tonight voiced his opposition to any effort to revise downward the south's representation at the national convention in 1924—a subject which will be up for consideration when the committee meets in Washington June 8th.

He also proposed a new plan for representation at the convention, based on increasing the number of delegates from Republican strongholds, but maintaining the present representation from southern states.

He made known his attitude in a letter to George A. Glyn, chairman of the Republican state committee.

"We should," he wrote "provide in the call for the convention of 1924 that each state shall elect four delegates at large; each congress district one delegate; each district which cast 10,000 votes or over for Mr. Harding one additional delegate; and make an entirely new provision for the election of still another delegate, or three in all, from every congress district which was so robust in its Republicanism in 1920 as to top the 30,000 mark."

Would Make Districts Potent

"The advantages of the plan are that the great Republican districts would become more potent, that we would obviate the claim that the south is to be too much represented for, manifestly, the influence of the north and west will be increased without retarding the growth of the Republican sentiment in any state; and what is more important, it will be possible for the party to recognize the desire and the right of women to participate in nominating conventions."

"As the women advance in the mastery of the problems of practical politics and of state craft they will be entitled to participate actively in conventions, and only by enlarging our numbers can we make their participation three years hence practically possible."

"It is contended," the letter says, "by those in the state south of the traditional Mason and Dixon line that the justification for the number of delegates rests solely on the failure of Republicans in those states to bring out their votes, when, in point of fact, that failure is due in a large measure to intimidation and a denial of suffrage to the negro, which is an invasion of his constitutional rights. To penalize these men for failure to vote under the circumstances beyond their control, would be, to argue, to legalize their disfranchisement."

He said that while the committee cannot correct the abuses complained of, it can refrain from taking a step which would carry a strong impression that it was a confirmation of the irregularities in the second year of the southern states have deprived the negroes of the vote.

WOMAN'S WAGE LAW REPORTED

Springfield, May 10.—Jeanette Rankin of Montana, who has been lobbying before the Illinois legislature for three months for the women's minimum wage law, saw the first fruits of her efforts develop tonight when the bill was reported out by the house committee on industrial affairs by a vote of 17 to 5.

The Dailey building probe committee on appropriations include the Bancroft bill making an appropriation for state exhibits at county fairs thruout the state and the Dailey bill appropriating $25,000 to the attorney general for attorneys and investigators to aid the building quiz commission. The appropriation in the Bancroft bill was increased from $50,000 to $75,000.

JANE ADDAMS APPEARS

Jane Addams of Hull house appeared before the senate judiciary committee to oppose the child actor bill already on the senate calendar. The bill authorizes court to permit appearance on the stage of children under 14 years of age.

Two joint resolutions—the Carroll resolution expressing sympathy for the "republic of Ireland" and the Kessinger resolution, requesting an amendment to the federal constitution abolishing the electoral college were reported out to the senate by the executive committee tonight.

Senator Spence's $20,000,000 annual distributive school fund bill was placed on the senate calendar on the order of first reading tonight.

GOVERNOR SMALL TONIGHT SIGNED TWO HIGH SCHOOL VALIDATION BILLS OFFERED BY THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AS SUBSTITUTES FOR SEVERAL MEASURES INTRODUCED BY MEMBERS.

Washington, May 10.—Continuation of Camp Grant, Ill., as a corps training center has been recommended to congress by the war department, according to Representative McKenzie, Republican, Illinois, chairman of a house military sub-committee, which is preparing recommendations as to what military bases should be abandoned. Mr. McKenzie said he was certain his sub-committee also would favor retention of the camp.

THREE WIVES IN MARITAL TANGLE OF YOUNG NEW YORK PUBLISHER

A new matrimonial tangle, involving John William Murray, a dapper young New York publisher and advertising man, and two actresses and a war worker, has just been brought to light in New York. He is accused of being the husband of the three women, shown above, at the same time. 1, Marie Posener, wife No. 1; 2, Anita Southwith, wife No. 2; and 3, Mary E. Dougherty, wife No. 3, with Murray.

COL. HUNT DEFENDS COURSE TAKEN IN BERGDOLL CASE

Resents Charge That "White Wash" Was Given by Court Martial

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The charge that Colonel John E. Hunt, former commandant at the disciplinary barracks at Governor's Island, was "white-washed" by a court-martial resulting from his alleged failure to take the proper precautions to prevent the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdall, Philadelphia draft dodger, was made today before the house investigating committee.

Called before the committee to tell what precautions he had taken to safeguard Bergdoll while on a gold hunting expedition to the Maryland mountains, Colonel Hunt was taken in hand by Representative Johnson, Kentucky, for a grilling across examination.

Some of the questions put to the witness were extremely blunt and of a personal nature. Then, after asking for a yes or no answer as to whether he had been given a fair trial and whether he had been aggressively prosecuted, Mr. Johnson proceeded to quote from the court-martial record certain statements by the prosecuting officer directed at the good standing of the accused.

Court Martial Proceedings

"Is that a vigorous prosecuting speech?" Mr. Johnson asked and Hunt replied instantly that it was a plea for his conviction as he saw it.

Extracts from the judge advocate's address, quoted by Mr. Johnson set forth that the prosecution did not think or intimate that Colonel Hunt wanted Bergdoll to escape, or was in any conspiracy to that end, and that it was realized, Hunt was "the sorriest of all" that the prisoner got away.

The extracts related to the suggestion of General Harris, the adjutant general, that a commissioned officer be placed in charge of the expedition, a suggestion which was not carried out. The prosecutor asked for a verdict of guilty on the specifications.

Asked if the escape was due to his own fault or to the incompetency of the guard Hunt denied vigorously that he was responsible for the man's escape and added that he did not want to characterize the conduct of the sergeant in charge as dereliction of duty.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN PAINTFULLY BURNED

Los Angeles, Calif., May 10.—Charlie Chaplin was painfully but not seriously burned at his motion picture studio here today when he tumbled over a ran acetylene blow torch which was part of the "set" in which he was working. His trousers caught fire and he was burned from ankles to waist. After first aid at the studio he was taken to his home.

SUBMIT QUESTION OF RECOGNITION TO CONVENTION

Affiliation with International to Be Put to Vote

(By The Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, May 10.—The question of whether the American Federation of Labor should continue to withhold its affiliation with the International Federation of Trade Unions—the European alliance of trade unions federations—will be submitted to the annual convention of the federation to be held in Denver in June.

This decision was reached here today by the executive council of the federation, which has already served notice on the International that the American organization cannot become affiliated with it because of its "revolutionary policy."

It is understood that the secretariat of the International at Amsterdam has asked that the American labor organization reconsider its stand and affiliate with the European movement.

President Samuel Gompers and other members of the executive council have taken the stand that the federation cannot join the international until it will guarantee the "autonomy and independence of the American Federation of Labor."

The Russian situation was discussed at today's session but no action was taken. It is understood, however, that the council will reaffirm its opposition to support to any movement demanding recognition of the soviet government.

ILLINOIS DENTAL SOCIETY IN SESSION

(By The Associated Press)
Peoria, May 10.—Fifteen hundred members of the Illinois State Dental Society having a membership of 2,600 dentists and considered the largest organization of its kind in the world, closed the first day's session of their three day fifty-seventh annual convention in Shrine Temple here tonight with a lecture by Dr. Thomas B. Hartzell of Minneapolis.

Talks of dental subjects and clinics were held during the day. Sixty three different companies are displaying exhibits of dentists supplies and dentifrice. Recent methods of extracting teeth and dental work are illustrated by actual operation during the clinics.

CITY OFFICIALS TO AID TENANTS

Chicago, May 10.—City officials came to the aid of tenants who are battling to retain their homes today when William H. Reid, commissioner of public service, announced that he would prosecute landlords who interfere with telephone, gas or electric light service of tenants whom they are seeking to oust. Several hundred eviction suits are now pending as a result of May rent increases.

FRENCH TROOPS HONOR AMERICAN SOLDIER DEAD

(By The Associated Press)
Havre, May 10.—French troops today rendered military honors to one hundred American soldier dead disinterred at Havre for shipment home. The ceremony took place at the station before the bodies were placed aboard a train for Antwerp.

OPPOSANTS SAY TARIFF MEASURE WILL PASS TODAY

Senator Edge Announces Intention to Vote for Bill

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The emergency tariff bill will come to a vote in the senate tomorrow with passage regarded as certain by even the strongest of its opponents.

The measure is expected by those in charge of it to command the vote of the Republican majority with a few exceptions and to receive the support on the final roll call of from six to eight Democrats.

Support from the Democrats side is expected to come from Senators of agricultural states. Ten days of extended debate on the measure ended late today with an attack on the measure from Senators Reed, Missouri and Walsh, Massachusetts, both Democrats, and an announcement of support by Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho. There are nearly a score of amendments pending immediate action and it is expected that it will be late in the day before the roll call on passage is taken.

Disposition of the measure by the senate will be followed by reference to a conference committee representing the house and senate which will seek to compromise differences.

Edge Will Vote for Bill

Senator Edge in announcing that he had decided to vote for the bill, said he believed it contained "enough of good more than to counterbalance the policy and features I believe to be bad." He enumerated among the changes for the better, the shortening of the active period from ten to six months.

This led Senator Reed, who followed the New Jersey senator, to remark that "if shortening its life four months made it partly virtuous, why not make it wholly virtuous by killing it altogether." "Mr. Reed assailed the bill as 'pork barrel legislation' and said its passage would be 'a miserable farce' in the way of relief to farmers."

The right of the farmers to any relief legislation was challenged by Senator Walsh, who declared "it is no time for the granting of special favors to any class," and that "the re-adjustment we are passing through must be worked out along natural lines."

The international bankers of the country were said by Senator Gooding to be opposed to a protective tariff and therein he added, lay one cause of Democratic opposition. These bankers, he asserted, were useful in the raising of campaign funds.

Senator Gooding charged the Democratic party with responsibility for the present low prices of farm products. They were the result, he said, of Democratic action in putting such products on the free list.

ARMY MEASURE AS PASSED BY HOUSE CARRIES BIG SUM

Totals Approximately $320,000,000 for Army of 150,000

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The army appropriation bill carrying approximately $320,000,000 and providing for an army of 150,000 enlisted men, was passed late today by the house and sent to the senate. The vote was 243 to 23.

Before the final vote was taken, unsuccessful attempts were made to have the house reverse its previous action in adopting an amendment providing for a reduction in the size of the army, which now totals about 230,000 men to 150,000 and for the discharge from service "under reasonable" war department regulations of men making application.

An effort by Representative Herrier, Republican, a new member from Oklahoma, to attach a rider declaring the war at an end and directing the secretary of war to withdraw American troops from the Philippines was quickly checked by Representative Mondell, the Republican leader, who made a point of order against it.

GOVERNOR VETOED SUNDAY OBSERVANCE BILL

Hartford, Conn., May 10.—Governor Lake vetoed the Sunday observance bill, which would legally permit professional baseball games on Sunday afternoons.

The bill was recently adopted in both branches. It aimed to permit legally thru local option professional baseball and football games and concerts with classical music on Sunday afternoons.

FINAL ULTIMATUM OF ALLIES IS ACCEPTED BY THE REICHSTAG

Yield to the Demands of the Allies, Vote Being 221 to 175—Total Sum Germany is Called Upon to Pay is 6,750,000,000 Pounds Sterling—She Must Also Disarm

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, May 10.—Germany has accepted the allied ultimatum. The Reichstag tonight by a vote of 221 to 175 yielded to the final demands of the allied powers, and, in so doing, agreed to fulfill the terms of the treaty of Versailles "to the capacity" of the nation to do so.

Dr. Wirth, the centrist leader, finally succeeded in forming a coalition cabinet, composed of centrists, majority socialists and democrats, which, confronted by grave necessity speedily decided that acceptance of the ultimatum was the only course. In making this announcement to the Reichstag the new chancellor asked for an immediate decision by that body, and in the voting which followed the government was sustained. The allied ultimatum required a definite reply based on "yes" or "no." No conditional reply would be entertained and the ultimatum was formulated to expire on the night of May 12.

The total sum which Germany is called upon to pay is 6,750,000,000 pounds sterling; disarmament must be carried out by Germany in accordance with the provisions of the treaty, and the trial of war criminals must be put into effect. Numerous other important terms, in which Germany has been in default will be enforced.

Non-compliance with the allied ultimatum would have subjected Germany to the occupation by the allies of the Ruhr valley and whatever other military and naval measures were deemed advisable.

The new cabinet is generally regarded as makeshift, largely unrepresentative, but good enough to accept the entente ultimatum, and thus avoid a French advance.

While the cabinet obtained a comfortable majority in the reichstag, it has the undivided support of only the majority socialists and clericals. The members of the other three parties, it is declared, have given its support as a makeshift, and are not pledged to give it parliamentary support.

A leading Democratic member of the reichstag said today: "The cabinet cannot last long as it is not on a broad enough basis to carry out the myriad of financial problems involved in German acceptance of the reparations settlement."

The reichstag assembled at nine o'clock tonight and Dr. Wirth announced the formation of a new cabinet, with himself as the chancellor and foreign minister. The other members of the cabinet are:

Gustav Bauer (former chancellor) vice chancellor and minister of the treasury; Herr Brauns (centrist) minister of economics; Herr Schifer (Democrat), minister of justice; Robert Schmidt (Socialist), minister of labor; General Grouer, (socialist Democrat) minister of transportation; Herr Giesberts, (centrist) minister of posts and telegraphs; Andres Hermes (centrist food controller; George Gradnauer (Majority Socialist deputy for Saxony) minister of the interior; Herr Gessler (Democrat), minister of defense; Herr Silberschmidt (Majority Socialist and labor leader), minister of reconstruction.

WILL PROCLAIM INDEPENDENT REPUBLIC

(By The Associated Press)
Warsaw, May 10.—Messages from Silesia today declared the executive committee of the insurgents is planning to proclaim sections of Silesia now under insurgent control an independent republic.

The reported plan calls for the establishment of a provisional government and the summoning of a constituent assembly.

News papers lay the blame for the recent demonstrations against the British and Italian legations in Warsaw to irresponsible labor leaders. In the latest demonstration several hundred men paraded the streets carrying American flags.

In Warsaw agitation in favor of the insurgents continues, but is beginning to show signs of moderation.

RAILROAD LABOR BOARD STRIKES ITS FIRST SNAG

Court Says it is its Duty to Conserve Railroad Property

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 10.—The first legal snag which the railroad labor board has encountered same to light today when counsel for the Georgia and Florida railway under a receivership established by a state superior court, cited an order saying it was "not only the power but the duty of the court to determine what wages should be paid in the preservation of the property in charge of the court."

The court assumed entire responsibility for wage reduction which employees contended before the board were without agreement with employees.

E. P. Curtis, speaking for the employees, charged that the receiver had reduced wages without the formalities requested by the transportation act.

Court's Duty to Conserve Property. The court order declares it was the duty of the court to conserve the property and see that it was not destroyed "either outright or gradually by continuing its use as an operated railroad when and under conditions where the operating income is less than the operating expenses, and thus consume the property."

Another short line to receive board's attention today was the Waupaca Green Bay railroad, a ten mile railroad in Wisconsin. This road also in the hands of a receiver, reduced the wages of its four employees—a conductor, engineer, fireman and brakeman—on September 1, 1920, because it could not make expenses, according to C. N. Smith, representing the receiver.

They have a new political party in Kansas. Its name is the Kansas Federation of Non-Partisan Voters. The birth of a new party in the Sunflower state is of such common occurrence that this new party will not cause any immediate stir.

A Chicago senator has introduced a bill requiring coal operators to pay to the state a tax of 5¢ a ton on all coal mined. Such a tax would raise a huge sum as Illinois is one of the greatest coal producing states in the union, and the consumers would pay the bill.

THE HARD ROADS SITUATION.

The Morgan County Good Roads Association proposes to hold a banquet and get together meeting at no distant date. The real purpose is to create such enthusiasm among the people of Morgan county for a "hard roads now" program that some favorable action may be secured from the state department.

It is very certain that the fund available from the $60,000,000 bond issue will not pay for even half the mileage originally expected, and as there is something to the theory that the counties where the most enthusiasm exists are likely to secure the largest and earliest expenditure of funds.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The movement for the reorganization of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce on broad lines is rapidly shaping. Business men of the city are showing an activity of interest in the preliminary plans which affords ample reason for counting upon the interest and enthusiasm of practically all citizens. The purpose is to build an organization which will meet the needs of Jacksonville not only today, but also in the coming days of enlargement.

At the community meeting planned for Thursday night there will be an interesting program and the audience will have opportunity for gaining first hand information as to what up to date chamber of commerce organization is meaning to other cities.

DREAMS THAT CAN BE REALIZED.

On another page of this issue appears an article by Dr. Joseph R. Harker, in which he takes a glimpse of the future in its relation to Jacksonville. Twenty years ago such an optimistic vision from Dr. Harker would not have carried as much force as it does today. There are men and women who dream dreams and see visions and leave the accomplishment of these things to other hands and minds. So they come to have the name of visionaries rather than men and women "with vision."

But Dr. Harker, along with his faculty of looking into the future, is intensely practical. He has brought things to pass. He has made men know that the things he talks about with reference to the future can come true. He has made possibilities develop into realities.

So the people can read this inspiring article on "Jacksonville

In 1940" with the thought in mind that all the things chronicled there can happen—can come true—if but the right spirit of co-operation is made dominant in this city.

Dr. Harker can look back today and say without self-complacency that he has had much to do with the progress that Jacksonville has made in material ways during recent years. His example and his words furnish splendid inspiration for the future. His motive in writing this article is well voiced in the following note which he addressed to the Journal with the copy:

"I have ventured to set down some of my 'dreams' with regard to Jacksonville, because I love the city and believe in it. I would like to know what you think of this 'vision,' and especially whether you think it might be helpful in the present campaign for the Chamber of Commerce and other yearnings which are beginning to express themselves for a better city. I am in Jacksonville only to serve."

THE TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM

Publication of the financial report of the Anti Tuberculosis association of this county has aroused some unfavorable comment from many. Unfortunately there is room for criticism from a business point of view.

The board of administration, appointed by a former board of county commissioners is composed of men and women of irreproachable character in every sense. If errors have been made they were the result of enthusiastic men and women working for an ideal—a desire to benefit, a desire to ameliorate to some extent the suffering of those afflicted with a dread disease.

An error was made in the beginning by failure to incorporate in the ballot when the movement for the erection of the sanatorium was voted of a certain definite amount of additional tax annually for the purpose. Failure in that has led to the taking from the general funds of the county an amount that has crippled the county, and that has not been sufficient to meet the demands caused by the high price occasioned by the wartime period, when costs far exceeded estimates originally contemplated.

As to the expenditures shown in the report, every voter must form his own judgment. The report is an honest, open one and the directors are ready to give information as to details.

There may have been poor judgment shown in the plans adopted, or in the expenditure of the funds. If there has, as has already been said, there is no question of the honesty of purpose of the people in whose hands the funds have been placed.

But the result has been about $105,000 expended, a floating debt and mortgage amounting to nearly $30,000 more, the assets represented by a beautiful acreage and an incomplete remodeled building.

The people are now asked to vote the assessment of a certain additional tax, for the completion of the building and for its equipment and maintenance for a term of years. Shall we abandon what has already been expended, salvage what we can or shall we continue to attempt to drain the county treasury of monies levied for general purposes?

The taking of large amounts from the county treasury in the few years for this purpose has so crippled the county that debts have been increasing each year until the county commissioners are seriously embarrassed in paying for ordinary, every day needs.

The aim and object of the institution is commendable, to benefit suffering humanity. The question to be considered by the tax paying community is solely the one—shall a tax be imposed on the assessable property of Morgan county to complete and maintain the proposed institution?

What would you do?

Funerals

Brooks.

Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie Brooks was held from the residence, north of the city at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in charge of the Rev. J. E. Curry of Waverly. Music was furnished by Mrs. Walter Woods and Mr. and Mrs. George Beckman. The flowers were in charge of Misses Bernice Fernandes, Ethel Taylor and Ruth McDonald.

Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery the bearers being Henry Taylor, Earl Bourn, G. McNeill, James McDonald, L. J. Stewart and Yuba Pank.

Spencer.

Funeral services for the late John Spencer were held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Reynolds chapel. The services were in charge of Rev. H. H. DeWitt. Music was supplied by a trio, Mrs. Douglas, Miss Mallory and Roy Moss. They sang "Asleep in Jesus" and "A Land That is Fairer Than Day." Then Miss Mallory sang as solo, "No Night There."

The many beautiful flowers were in charge of Mrs. Emma Williams, Mrs. H. H. DeWitt, Mrs. Albert Moore and Mrs. Laura Lafayette. Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were James Matthews, Charles Starks, Albert Moore, C. E. Brannon, Hal Matthews and E. Brannon.

West.

The funeral services for Catherine Marie West were held at the family home three miles east of Woodson at 10 a. m. Tuesday and were conducted by Rev. A. E. Powell of Woodson. Two songs, "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us" and "When He Cometh to Make Up His Jewels" were sung by Mrs. Nettie Ezard and Rev. and Mrs. Powell.

The funeral message was taken from Malachi 3:17: "And They shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels."

There were many beautiful flowers and these were kindly cared for by friends. Interment was made in Ashbury cemetery, the pall bearers being William Craig, Harvey Craig, Elisha Adams and Ernest Sandberg.

Death came to Catherine, the 11 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis West, Monday evening at 8 o'clock after several months of illness. She is survived by her father and mother, three brothers and two sisters.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

CHANGES IN BUILDINGS

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

From that day in 1825 when Thomas Arnett and Isaac Dial had Johnson Shelton lay off the town of Jacksonville, to be the county seat of the two-year-old county of Morgan, there have been decided changes in building here.

The surveyor cut off the grass so as to plat the place, and it was all prairie from the woods lining the Mauvaisterre and what was afterwards Grierson's Grove, to what also was afterwards Duncan's and College Grove, east and west. The prairie ran about six miles south from the woods on the Mauvaisterre, to the north and to those south of the town site—on the line of what is now Main street.

had a little log cabin about where the Episcopal manse is now. This house was bought by Thomas Carson, moved to the east side of the Square, was added to, and became the first tavern.

Another house, a double log cabin, where Passavant hospital is now, the home of "Father" Jordan, constituted, with Corran's the only residences "near town." Neither of these was in the original town. Such was the material and the architecture of the early dwelling houses here, and the houses and stores at first built on the town site were all of the same style.

Moses Atwood had the

First Frame Store.

Gov. Duncan's little cottage in Elm Grove was the first frame residence, but it was "way out of town." It was years before the large mansion, described as Gov. Duncan's "Seat" was included in the limits of the prairie village.

The first brick store was built by John P. Wilkinson at the southeast corner of the square at East State street, and most of it is still there.

Mrs. Charles Rockwell's father built a large story and a half and basement brick house, at the southeast corner of College avenue and Church street. Across, straight west was the little brick house of Judge Samuel Lockwood, of the State Supreme Court.

Rev. John M. Ellis

built the first large frame house on West State street, one door west of Church street—north side of the street. The frame was brought from Cincinnati, Ohio. The old house is still there.

The Januaries.

Thos. T. and Derrick A. at an early date built two 2-story and a half brick houses, opposite each other, where the Dunlap hotel and Cherry flats are now.

Col. George M. Chambers

built the first large brick house out farther, on West State street, in 1846. As is well known it is still there and occupied by the Colonel's granddaughter, Miss Ellen Irwin Moore. Miss Moore's mother was married in that house. In the east end of town, on the north side of East State street was the large brick house of Mr. Grierson, father of

Gen. Benj. H. Grierson.

It, too, still stands, altho General Grierson improved it somewhat.

All the First Churches

met in the little log school house, in which the first school was taught in 1826, by Judge Wm. Thomas. This was about where the Lutheran church is now, on East College street.

It is not to be forgotten that part of all of it being of brick, was put up in 1829, and Illinois College was opened there in 1830.

Beecher Hall,

That year, 1830, the Brick Court House was built, in the southwest quarter of our Central Park. It was taken down in 1870.

The brick houses and stores came along nicely in time, but it was not 'till 1868 that the first large stone building, being the Morgan County Court House, was begun, and it was occupied in 1870.

Going back a little, the Methodists had the first brick church building, followed by the First Presbyterian edifice.

It was not until 1881 that the first large single stone business house, the Ayers bank, at the northwest corner of West State street and the Square was built. This having since been succeeded by the present Ayers National bank on the same site.

Westminster Church had the first stone building for churches here—dedicated April 15, 1900. The writer secured the plan for it, and, as President of the Board of Trustees, superintended its erection.

Robert C. Smith

erected the first marble front store building, along about 1870, and J. Tabor Matthews followed him with another of the same style soon after.

Marble Block

was erected about 1867, on the south side of the Square by Judge E. P. Kirby and W. Chauncey Carter. But it is really of "Joliet" stone, not marble.

J. H. Osborne

built the Opera House, at the corner of the Square, at the crossing of Court and Mauvaisterre streets, in the early eighties. This was of red or brown sandstone.

The Hockenbush Estate built the handsome Rabjohn store on the east side of the Square, and that at the southwest corner of Morgan and Mauvaisterre streets.

WIREMAN SUFFERS SEVERE BURNS

Employee of Central Illinois Public Service Company Injured While Working on High Voltage Wire Near Roodhouse.

Yesterday morning near Roodhouse, Jess Seal, one of a crew in the employ of the Central Illinois Public Service company, was working on a pole cutting in a 2,300 volt wire when by some accident he grasped two wires making a connection and the whole force went thru him. His hand was badly burned and he was unable to let go and soon lost consciousness. H. Owen a member of the crew, went up and cut the wires and with a harness let the man down and J. E. Harding, foreman of the crew, secured a pump and by vigorous effort succeeded in bringing the unfortunate man to consciousness. The mouth of the sufferer was tightly closed and Mr. Harding's concern was to open it and pull out the injured man's tongue and in doing so the teeth closed tightly on Harding's hand hurting it badly.

The sufferer was hurried to Passavant hospital as rapidly as possible where he received attention and will probably recover all right.

The Instrument You Were Born to Play requires only the application of the musical feeling that is born in all of us to play for you as satisfactorily and sympathetically as it plays for the artist who performs by hand. Your musical wishes instinctively expressed to its pedals make it respond as fully as if you were playing upon its keys. Through the Manualo you enjoy the sensation of really playing a musical instrument. You never think that you are operating a machine.

The Manualo satisfies everybody who plays it. Every member of your family would enjoy it immensely from the youngest who can reach the pedals to those who ordinarily might think themselves too old to play a musical instrument. Come in and try it and bring some of your folks to try it too.

Whether you want an inexpensive instrument or the finest to be had there is a Manualo to meet your requirements. We sell these four famous brands, all made by the House of Baldwin—the Baldwin Manualo, the Ellington Manualo, the Hamilton Manualo, the Howard Manualo—and as we are direct factory distributors, we can give you values that positively are unrivaled.

WADDELL STORE
INSTALLS SCALES

The second floor of Waddell's store will probably soon become the popular place for the feminine discussion of "How I lost ten pounds in a week,"—or gained them—as the case may be. The management has installed a set of Deluxe standard scales and anyone may now go there and find out his or her correct weight—free of charge.

They are scales made especially for schools, hospitals or homes and are guaranteed to be correct. Above the scales is posted a table of correct weights according to one's age and height, compiled by a physician according to scientific data.

If you think you are too fat go in today and see. Then go back a week from today and see how much good it did to deny yourself all those chocolate creams and good cakes. Maybe it will pay. You might try it anyway. You'll find your correct weight at Waddell's.

Mrs. John Scott Dies After Illness of Several Years—Other Manchester News Notes.

Manchester, May 10.—Mrs. John Scott died at her home one mile east of Manchester at 4:10 o'clock this morning. She had been in failing health for several years but her last illness was of only two weeks' duration.

Decedent before her marriage was Miss Mary Greenwalt and was born in this vicinity April 8, 1858. She was united in marriage to John Scott Sept. 11, 1874, who survives together with one son, Walter, also resident in this community. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. William Duncan, Mrs. Anna Blackburn and Miss Katie Smith.

Mrs. Scott was a member of the Baptist church and lived a consistent Christian life. Funeral services will be held from the Baptist church at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon in charge of the Rev. Henry Dixon of Medora.

WILL OF MRS. COLWELL IS FILED FOR PROBATE

The will of the late Mrs. Margaret K. Colwell of Alexander was filed for record Tuesday in the office of County Clerk Riggs. Mrs. Colwell made her will April 28, 1921, with J. A. Bellatti and C. A. Johnson as witnesses to the signature. The testatrix set aside a sum of $1,000 for the Alexander M. E. church, the interest of which is to be used toward the payment of the minister's salary or for other church expenditures.

A bequest of $200 is made to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Further, Mrs. Colwell made a bequest of lots 1 and 2 in block 16, of Alexander to the M. E. church for the erection of a parsonage. It is provided, however, that unless such a building is erected within five years that the lots shall become a part of her estate. All the rest of the property, real and personal, is to be divided in equal amounts among the children of the testatrix, Katherine Kaiser, sister of the testatrix, is named as executor of the will.

TEST SHOWS MERITS OF RED CROWN GASOLINE

At Murrayville Tuesday a demonstration was made to show the merits of Red Crown gasoline, the product of the Standard Oil Co. The arrangements for the test were made by Houston Ward, who is the company agent at Murrayville. A Hupmobile owned by J. L. Sullivan was used in making the test and the judges were J. E. Thompson, W. O. Beadles and S. J. Robinson.

The Hupmobile was drained of all gasoline in tank and carburetor. Then one quart of Red Crown gasoline was used and the distance covered was 4.6 miles. A second test was made with another brand of gasoline sold in Murrayville and it tested 3.3 miles with the use of one quart.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR C. OF C. CONFERENCE

Will be Held in Armory Hall Thursday Evening—Fine Program Has Been Arranged.

Yesterday, at organization headquarters, 306 East State street, Cloverleaf building, the community conference committee directing Jacksonville's first big meeting in connection with the organization movement for a modern Chamber of Commerce, met and formulated plans for the conference. The same keen interest and co-operation prevailed in this session as has been manifested in all other committees up to this time.

The community conference will be held Thursday evening, 8:00 o'clock, May 12, Armory hall, south side of square. The citizens are cordially invited to attend and learn at first hand what this enterprise, Jacksonville's greatest forward movement, will mean for the city.

The committee is making every effort possible to make this first meeting an enthusiastic as well as a profitable one. A fine program consisting of musical numbers, community singing, local and out-of-town speakers will be in store for those who attend.

R. H. Bready, actively in touch with modern chamber of commerce activities, of Pontiac Mich., will be the main speaker of the evening and it is assured that Mr. Bready will come to us with a fine inspirational yet practical message as he has done in scores of other cities.

There will be no admission charge, no membership solicitation, just good music, good speaking, good fellowship, and a fine get-together meeting. The personnel of the committee in charge of this part of the organization movement, is: Judge H. P. Samuel, chairman, H. M. Anderson, J. G. Berger, Wm. J. Brady, W. L. Fay, A. C. Metcalf, Lloyd Reid.

ALEXANDER

John Reif, Jr., was taken to Our Savior's hospital Tuesday and will undergo an operation there in the near future.

The May birthday social will be held today at the M. E. church. The following will be the hostesses: Mrs. Mame Davenport, Mrs. E. J. Edmonds, Mrs. C. M. Strawn and Mrs. Lester Gray.

Mr. Andrews, who has been spending the past few weeks at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. H. Kneely, has returned to his home in Mt. Solon, Va.

CIVIL SERVICE
RESTRICTIONS
ARE MODIFIED

Pres. Harding Takes Action in Law on Postmasters

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Civil service restrictions governing the choice of postmasters were modified by President Harding today to give the administration a freer hand in exercising its own judgment in regard to the qualifications of applicants.

In an executive order affecting approximately thirteen thousand postoffices of the first, second and third classes, the president authorized the selection of any one of the first three on the eligible list as determined by open competitive examinations.

Under an order of President Wilson, the executive could exercise no such choice, but was required to appoint the applicant standing at the head of the list.

Issues Statement
In making the order public President Harding issued a statement saying that the new arrangement had been decided upon because it would permit such election of postmasters and would not mean as business training and experience to figure in the selection the choice merely on "a cloistered, scholastic examination which might result in a high grade in theory but not a guaranty of efficiency in fact."

The president also pointed out that a choice among the first three already submitted is permitted for fourth class postmasterships under permanent civil service regulations as fixed by law. He expressed the hope that congress would extend these permanent regulations to all postmasterships by bringing them under the classified civil service.

Today's action was the first important step taken by the new administration in regard to the general problem of patronage, and is understood to have been decided upon after extended conferences between the president, Postmaster General Hays and other high administration officials. It has been forecast as a part of the postoffice regulation plan under contemplation by the postmaster general.

of unwarranted attack made on him by Smith Monday night. His painful injuries give some indication that Smith used "knuckles" in the attack. As Lashmet is one of the most popular students on the hill and an athletic star, there is a strong feeling against Smith among the students.

WILL SEND TO NEW YORK FOR ABE ATTELL
IN BASEBALL SCANDAL

Was Placed Under Arrest in Eastern City Monday

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 10.—A detective will be sent to New York tomorrow to bring back Abe Attehl, who was arrested there today at the request of Chicago officials who have been seeking the expugilist in connection with the 1919 world series baseball scandal, it was stated at the state's attorney office.

News of Attehl's arrest caused surprise among state officials, for it was believed that he was still in Canada and hope of bringing him to trial virtually had been abandoned. Attehl was indicted last October during the first investigation into the alleged throwing of the 1919 world series by Chicago White Sox players. He was re-indicted several weeks ago after the second grand jury investigation.

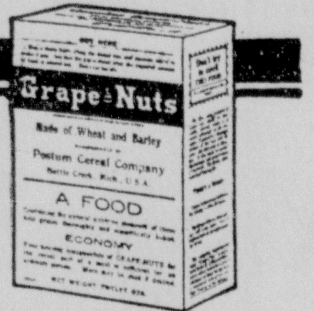

The former pugilist was said by the witnesses before the jury to have been the traveling agent of a group of gamblers who are alleged to have conspired with the players to throw the series. Other witnesses said that Attehl actually played both sides in the scandal, obtaining money from gamblers to bribe players and then refusing to pay players amounts he was said to have promised them.

OPPOSITION IS DEVELOPED TO SALES TAX LAW

R. C. Elliott of Chicago Appears Before Committee Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Opposition to enactment of a general sales tax law developed at a hearing before the senate finance committee. At previous sessions only arguments in support of the plan had been given.

The strongest opposition to a levy on gross sales was offered by R. C. Elliott of Chicago, representing the National Association of Credit Men. Its application to government regulated industries also was attacked by Phillip Gadsden, of Philadelphia, who spoke for the National Electric Light Association, the American Gas Association and the American Electric Railway association.

Mr. Elliott declared supporters of the proposition contended that the tax would be passed on to the ultimate consumer. This feature he said, was menacing in that if passed on, the tax burden would fall largely on the necessities of life and upon persons least able to pay.

Mr. Gadsden declared it a physical impossibility to assess a sales tax on street car fares or on electricity or thru pre-payment meters.

The committee adjourned the hearings until Friday when other opponents of a sales tax are expected to be heard.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—John J. McNamara, released today from San Quentin prison after serving nine years and five months for dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron Works in Los Angeles in 1919, evaded all interviewers on arrival in San Francisco. As far as could be learned he was staying with friends.

Officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, of which McNamara formerly was secretary, announced that no attempt had been made to re-arrest him on charges said to be pending in the federal court at Indianapolis.

McNamara is scheduled to speak tomorrow night at a meeting of the local structural iron workers' union.

He left behind him at San Quentin his brother who is serving a life sentence for murder in connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building.

The interest rate on the new issue is one quarter per cent less than the last issue of nine months certificates. The lowering of the interest rate was said to indicate an easier money market.

A Greater, Better and More Beautiful City

By JOSEPH R. BARKER

(Note: These definite suggestions for a greater, better, and more beautiful Jacksonville are respectfully referred to the mayor, the city administration, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club and to all thoughtful and progressive citizens. The vision does not pretend to be complete; many other possibilities can be foreseen, but the writer believes that what is here set down is easily possible in twenty years if the citizens will only believe in the city and keep together in active continuous cooperation towards definite ends.)

It is very interesting to read of "Old Jacksonville", and Mr. Ensley Moore is doing a great service in gathering and recording the early history of the city.

But what Jacksonville most needs is VISION to see the future possibilities of the city with clear and intelligent eyes, and then to believe in these possibilities, and to work together with courage and faith for their realization.

Permanent Water Supply Assured.
The one outstanding need of Jacksonville in all its history has been an adequate and permanent supply of water. That need is assured for all time to come and now the city is ready for any reasonable program both of utility and beauty.

What would such a program possibly include for the next twenty years?

1. Extend the water system.
The water system should be extended as rapidly as possible to every part of the city, and every opportunity should be afforded for the most ample use of the water for all purposes. The more water used, the greater the health and beauty of the city and the greater the revenue.

2. An adequate sewer system.
It is well understood that the next great need of Jacksonville, after an adequate water supply, has always been an adequate system of sewerage. It was not possible until the water was secured, but now it is the very next step. It should be wisely planned and should be on such a scale as to be adapted to meet the needs of the city for the next fifty years at least. The whole system may well be a civic task extending over many years but its planning and beginning should be the first duty of the present administration.

3. Fire protection.
Equally with the extension of the water and sewerage systems, fire protection should be made constantly more adequate. It

SUMMARY

It may be helpful to summarize briefly the possibilities suggested.

1. The extension of the water system, with better fire protection and an adequate sewer system.

2. Continued attention to the beauty of the streets, including the grading and curbing of unpaved streets, side walks, lawns, trees, removal of poles, etc.

3. The making of a Brook boulevard, with more small parks and with a number of public playgrounds.

4. Extend the city in every direction, provide good roads for outside connections, make provision for automobiles and aeroplanes, and for exhibits, conventions, etc.

5. Start a movement to build modern residences, hotels, rooming houses, etc., and expect an increase every year both in permanent population and transient visitors.

6. In every way make the public schools and the hospitals and the state institutions the pride and glory of the city.

7. Let every citizen and every organization in the city unite behind its two colleges and help them realize their greater opportunities as among the chief assets of a greater, better, and more beautiful Jacksonville.

Faith in Jacksonville and its future, its enterprises, its institutions, and its people—faith backed by financial and moral support, by cooperation and boosting—faith, and cooperation and boosting that will not grow weary—will work wonders in the next twenty years.

surely pays a city to be alert for the prevention of fires and to be ready to take immediate care of fires whenever they occur.

4. Street improvement.

The Rodgers administration and the Crabtree administration have already made a fine beginning on street improvement under difficult circumstances. We already have better streets and sidewalks than the average city.

a. Unpaved streets.
The good work already begun should go on. Other principal streets should be paved, but special attention should be given to the unpaved streets. Most of them can be made as beautiful as paved streets at comparatively little expense. A grade for each street should be established and concrete curbing and guttering should be put in. This would naturally be followed by concrete walks, all kept lawns and boulevards, so that these unpaved streets so improved and beautified would be as desirable residence streets as any in the city.

b. The Brook possibilities.
The greatest possibility of beautifying Jacksonville lies in the treatment of the old Brook. The Brook section has been and is the most unsanitary and unsightly part of Jacksonville, a menace to health and most undesirable for residence.

It can be made the beauty center of the city, a joy to the eye and a delight to every visitor. Clean out the old Brook, concrete its bottom, confine it with concrete walls, and make a winding boulevard drive along its entire length. A small park could easily be made at the west end beyond Lincoln avenue; another at the Hardin avenue end, near the C. & A. railroad, and perhaps a small park in the middle. All of these are open spaces at present and are adapted for small parks. The improvement here suggested would cost comparatively little and would increase the value of contiguous property many times its cost. It would make of what is now an eyesore and a shame a most beautiful civic center of which the city would always be proud.

5. Parks and public playgrounds.
Such a Central Brook Boulevard and small parks would supplement the splendid park system we already have and in a few years this would be the most beautifully parked city in the middle west.

To the park system there should be added four or five public playgrounds, one in each ward and perhaps a central playground. Nothing would contribute more to a healthy community life than a system of public playgrounds properly supervised and sufficient to provide for the outdoor play life of all the youth of the city. It would be one of the wisest expenditures the city could make.

6. Tree planting and care.
The trees of Jacksonville have been its chief distinction. They should be adequately and systematically cared for. The continuous planting of the right kind of trees should be encouraged in every way. The unsightly telephone and other poles should be taken down, the wires conveyed underground, and every possible measure taken to bring the streets to even more than their former beauty.

With an adequate water supply, an up-to-date sewerage system and fire protection, with paved and graded streets, beautiful parks, supervised playgrounds, good sidewalks, trees, and well kept lawns, Jacksonville will be the most beautiful city in the state.

7. City extensions.
The vision of the next twenty years would include the extension of Jacksonville in every direction. With the many advantages that Jacksonville could offer, it would be to the clear interest of the surrounding communities to become incorporated with the city. South Jacksonville and West Jacksonville should come in right away. There are possibilities for a most beautiful residential section in north Jacksonville on the high land north of the creek, and east Jacksonville will similarly become desirable with the removal of the rendering works and the extension of the street car line or the establishment of reasonable motor car service. The sections south and east of the city, toward Nichols Park and the new Mauvaisterre Park are sure to be built up before long, and all around Mauvaisterre Lake there will be an increasing number of beautiful suburban homes. It should be the definite policy of the city to seek limits at least to a distance of two or three miles in every direction from the central square.

8. Good roads.
There should be equal interest in the extension of good roads out from Jacksonville in every direction, connecting it with the rest of the state. The city has suffered from its inadequate railroad connections. Good roads and motor car service to Springfield, Virginia, Winchester, and other outlying towns will go far to remedy this lack. Jacksonville is the natural center for a territory from thirty to sixty miles in every direction in financial, agricultural, manufacturing, shopping, religious, educational, philanthropic, and social interests. It has everything to gain and nothing to lose from easy outside connections. Every effort should be constantly made to make it easy for everybody in all its large territory to get in Jacksonville.

9. Homes and hotels.
A definite campaign should be put on for building, especially of moderate sized modern homes. A hundred such homes would be occupied at once if they were available. There is a great demand even now for better hotel accommodations, and well arranged rooming houses or apartment houses will be more and more needed.

The time is clearly here when Jacksonville should make ready for a steady increase in its permanent population, and should provide for an increasing stream of visitors.

A part of the plan to connect the city with the outside, constantly increasing provision should be made for taking care of automobiles. A large field for aeroplanes should be provided. Jacksonville is the center of a rich agricultural territory and every possible provision should be made to encourage large gatherings of men interested in agricultural lines. There should be a large pavilion or enclosure of some kind for exhibitions of stock and machinery and for the holding of large conventions.

It will pay the people of Jacksonville to invest more and more in their own city and to spend more of their earnings and capital in helping home enterprises.

10. Hospitals and schools.
The greatest assets of Jacksonville have always been its good schools, its state institutions, and its hospitals and churches. Through these the city has attained a state wide and even a nation wide reputation.

The hospitals are doing a great and invaluable service. They should be enlarged and generously supported. It will probably be found wise before long to remove the Passavant Hospital to a quieter and better location, but it will be a happy day for Jacksonville when the good work these institutions are doing is more generally recognized and the people of the city and of the entire county become more liberal and generous in their support.

The state institutions have in large measure been the making of Jacksonville. In every way the city should show its appreciation of these institutions and should cooperate with the officers for their continued growth and advancement. They have larger possibilities than have yet been realized.

The schools and colleges of Jacksonville have sent out many men and women who have done high service in church and state and in the communities into which they have gone. The schools should be the pride of every citizen. With the new high school the city will have a public school equipment not surpassed by any city in the west. Within the next twenty years it will be found necessary to enlarge the grounds of the high school and the David Prince school. It would be most desirable if for school purposes the entire property should be secured as far west as Prairie street. It should be the purpose of every citizen to see that every boy and girl in Jacksonville actually receives the full advantage of the public and high school educational opportunities that are provided. Every year that can be added to the school life of a child is a distinct asset both to the individual and the community.

11. Illinois College.
Illinois College has been one of the most helpful factors in the history of Jacksonville. It has done more to enhance the reputation of the city and to make it known throughout the nation than any other institution. It has never been more useful or had so promising an outlook as today. It needs at once a half million dollars for endowment and buildings and will need double that before very long. It should have the generous support of the entire city. In the next twenty years the Illinois College, if properly supported by the people of Jacksonville will increase in attendance many fold and will abundantly repay in actual service whatever it may receive.

12. Woman's College.
In the Illinois Woman's College Jacksonville has a unique educational opportunity. In the past twenty years it has brought into the city and permanently invested in buildings, equipment, and endowment more than $600,000 in gifts from outside friends, and in the last thirty years it has brought into the business life of the city through the current expenditure of its students more than $3,000,000. It is now bringing in through its students and faculty more than $150,000 every year. Since it is the only college of its kind within hundreds of miles and one of only five such colleges in the whole Mississippi Valley, it is easy to see that with generous local support it may be within less than twenty years the equal of any of the great colleges for women in the east. It can have a thousand students, bringing into the business life of the city yearly more than half a million dollars and making Jacksonville the educational center for the women of the middle west.

What the Illinois Woman's college will become in the next twenty years is limited only by the people of Jacksonville themselves. Every dollar of permanent investment in this institution will bring the citizens of Jacksonville will bring at least $5 of permanent investment from the outside and will also bring $2 or $3 every year thereafter in the business income of the city. Such a statement as this cannot be made for any other institution than a college.

In its two colleges, Jacksonville has a civic asset which many cities are now greatly anxious to secure. Springfield recently offered three-fourths of a million dollars for a college much smaller than these, Bloomington and McLean county, in order to keep the Illinois Wesleyan, are now pledging themselves to raise $600,000 in the next eight weeks. Other cities are competing with each other with bids of more than a million dollars for similar institutions. If Jacksonville did not already have these two colleges, it would be a paying investment to give a million dollars to secure them.

In no possible way can the interests of Jacksonville be more quickly and easily and permanently secured than by a generous and liberal support of its two colleges.

SPLENDID PROGRAM AT WOODSON CHURCH

Fathers and Mothers Honored by Special Program at Woodson Presbyterian Church Sunday Morning.

A very interesting program was given at the Woodson Presbyterian church Sunday morning in honor of the fathers and mothers. The men's and women's classes of the Sunday school were responsible for the program, and Mrs. John Hoagland was the chairman in charge of the arrangements. The program was as follows:

Song—"Where He Leads Me I Will Follow."—Congregation.

Prayer—John Baxter.

Scripture lesson, 103d Psalm, fathers and mothers reading alternately.

Poem—"A Tribute to Mothers"—Mrs. John Hoagland.

Solo, "Father, Thy Way Was Right"—William Colton.

Recitation, "Mother's Way"—Margaret Cunningham.

Paper, "Mother's Part in Mother's Day"—Mrs. Ina Colton.

Song, "Faith of Our Fathers"—Congregation.

Paper, "Great Men's Tributes to Mother"—Mrs. Hugh Voorhees.

Offering.

Sermon—Rev. A. E. Powell.

Prayer.

Song—"My Mother's Prayer"—Congregation.

The minister chose Matthew 5:45 as his theme, "That ye may be the children of our Father which is in heaven." In his message Rev. Mr. Powell sought to show that the mother and father love and care of earthly parents are but the gifts to these from the Heavenly Father; that not only is God the father of all by creation but by redemption restores His image to all who believe in Him.

GOOD ROADS MEN PLAN FOR BANQUET

Association Held Regular Meeting Last Night—Arranged for Conference With County Board

A meeting of the Morgan County Good Roads association was held last night at the court house. At this session several matters of importance were considered. It was decided to appoint a committee to meet with the county board and discuss ways and means of securing some hard road work in Morgan county this year. W. E. Sullivan, president, presided and L. T. Potter was secretary, with a number of good roads enthusiasts present.

By unanimous vote it was decided to hold a good roads banquet and get together meeting at an early date. It is the hope that a representative of the state highway department may be secured as the speaker on that occasion.

Superintendent of County Highways L. V. Baldwin was present and told of several interviews with representatives of the highway department with reference to good roads work. Mr. Sullivan made a statement with reference to similar interviews. It is now the policy of the state department to award contracts for road building where it is possible to have the work done at $20,000 a mile.

The committee appointed to confer with the county board includes W. E. Sullivan, John Snyder, A. E. Williamson, W. L. Pay, Grant Gaff and L. T. Potter. It is expected that they will meet with the board today. The committees named to make arrangements for the banquet include:

Program—John Snyder, L. R. Craig, W. P. Duncan, R. Y. Rowe, W. E. Sullivan, E. E. Crabtree, Ornsby Dawson.

Arrangements—L. T. Potter, William Batz, A. E. Williamson, Howard Zahn.

Publicity—L. V. Baldwin, Grant Gaff, J. W. Walton.

Finance—Henry Rodgers, C. N. Priest, J. F. Claus, C. M. Strawn, T. M. Tomlinson, Homer Ranson, Henry Friesen.

Other committee members are still to be appointed.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY GAVE FINE PROGRAM

Grace Church Women and Friends Guests at Home of Mrs. J. R. Davis.

At the annual open meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Grace church, held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. John R. Davis on Webster avenue, a very interesting program was presented. The excellent program included a one-act play, "A Dinner with Complications." There were also some musical selections. The play is by Marjorie Benton Cooke and the very amusing situations were cleverly developed by the cast, which included:

Professor James Carlton—Harlan Williamson.

Mrs. Carlton—Miss Ida Maddox.

Eleanor Haskins, the guest—Miss Frances Griswold.

Peggy Ball, a school mate of Eleanor Haskins—Eunice Williamson.

Dr. Richard Landers—Harvey Vollrath.

Dr. Robert Landers, a nerve specialist—Roger Carter.

Mrs. H. C. Woltman, Mrs. E. D. Canatsey and Mrs. Beulah Coddington each sang a group of songs. Mrs. Coddington also gave a reading. The program throughout proved in every way delightful and the social hour which followed was greatly enjoyed. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Homer Potter was in charge of the program and Miss Lillian McCullough was director of the one-act play.

The hostesses were Mrs. J. R. Davis, Mrs. J. J. Reeve, Mrs. Nelson McMurphy, Mrs. Ornsby Dawson, Mrs. Herbert Capps, Mrs. Carl York, Mrs. Phipps.

Elks to Open Their New Home Tonight

All is in readiness for the opening of the new home of Jacksonville Lodge No. 628, B. P. O. E., this evening. While the entire building is not finished, enough has been completed to show the magnificence of the new quarters.

For several months past various artisans have been working in the remodeling of the old Y. M. C. A. building, which has resulted in the present beautiful home. C. W. Buckingham furnished the plans and has given much of his time to the superintending of the work.

Joseph DeGoveia had the general contract and worked in good weather and had to get the building completed. W. G. Benson has the painting and decorating. G. A. Sieber the electric fixtures and Andre and Andre the furnishings. All of them have been working night and day to get the building ready for the opening tonight.

The ball room which will also be used temporarily for lodge purpose is a marvel of beauty. It has a maple floor polished so that one can almost see oneself in it. It undoubtedly is the finest dancing floor in the city. The fixtures are arranged in an artistic manner and on one of the walls is a dancing scene which was given to the lodge by Mr. Buckingham.

The men's lounge has a beautiful fire place while the drapes are of Rose Lake pongee silk. In the dining room the walls are grayish green and the ceiling lemon chrome. The tables for this room match the ceiling color and the chairs will also be draped with the same colors as the drapes of the room.

These will be the only rooms completed for inspection this evening. Up stairs two rooms have been fitted up for coats and hats. For this evening furniture will be furnished by Andre and Andre. Entire new equipment has been ordered for the new home but it had not arrived and the furniture will be used temporarily until the new arrive.

Every Elk who is within traveling distance of Jacksonville today should make every effort to visit the new home tonight. It is a credit to the order and to Jacksonville and the local members have reason to be proud of their splendid home.

The regular meeting of the lodge will be held at the usual hour and ladies who come with their husbands will find comfortable surroundings in which to wait until the meeting is over.

Following the lodge meeting Dunlap's orchestra will furnish music for dancing. Tables will also be placed in the dining room for cards. Every member is urged to be present tonight.

Social Events

Birthday Party for Miss Margaret Shay

A number of friends spent a pleasant evening recently at the home of Miss Margaret Shay east of the city, the occasion being her seventeenth birthday. The hours were spent with games and music and at a late hour refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walker Henderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Elmore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moxon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Goveia and little grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Birdsell and family.

Queen Esther Enjoyed "Kid Party"

The Queen Esther Society of Centenary church had a "Kid Party" last evening in the church parlors. Everyone came in very clever and funny kid costumes and the evening was spent with amusing stunts, games and other children's fun. Everyone entered into the spirit of the party and had a jolly time. During the evening a fine picnic supper was served. The committee in charge of the arrangements for the party included Miss Florence Bentley, Miss Waive Barton and Miss Ruth Wilkinson.

South American Missions Subject of Study

The Woman's Missionary Society of Westminster church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Julia Holmes on West College avenue. Miss Eleanor Moore led a very interesting discussion on "Missions in South America." A pleasant social hour followed the discussion. Mrs. Holmes was assisted in entertaining by her daughters.

Ella Ewing Circle Met With Mrs. Armstrong

The Ella Ewing Circle of the Central Christian church held its regular monthly meeting last night at the home of Mrs. A. S. Armstrong on Franklin street. The discussion last night was on "The Bible and the Nation" and Mrs. Armstrong led the program. China was studied in connection with the missionary work. Miss Marie Finney gave a translation of the Bible in Chinese and Miss Annabel Crum talked on the teaching of the Bible in the Eastern Land. Miss Dorothy Donovan gave a very delightful reading. The evening closed with a pleasant social hour during which the hostesses served refreshments. Mrs. Walton Bland assisted Mrs. Armstrong in entertaining.

Newlyweds Given Charity

Mr. and Mrs. John Claus were given a charity Monday night when twenty two of their friends came to their home on East College street and gave them a good "send-off." The serenaders were invited in and the evening was happily spent with games and delicious refreshments were served. The surprise was in charge of Mrs. Bert McFarland, Miss Lucile Straight and Miss Hermine Falbrush of Chapin.

East Side Club Elects Officers

The East Side Tuesday club held the last meeting of the year yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Knollenberg on South Main street. A business meeting was held and the officers for next year were elected as follows:

President—Mrs. J. M. Wolfe.

Vice President—Mrs. G. R. Bradley.

Treasurer—Mrs. D. E. Kennedy.

Secretary—Miss Winnie Wackerle.

The members answered roll call and interesting reminiscences of why I became a member of the East Side Tuesday club. The afternoon was a most delightful one, and during the social hour following the business session the hostess served dainty refreshments. The club adjourned to hold the next meeting in the fall.

Orleans Country Club Held Meeting Tuesday

Mrs. W. T. Scott was hostess to members of the Orleans Country Club Tuesday afternoon at her home southeast of the city. There was a large attendance of members and a great many guests were also present.

The program of the afternoon included a very valuable paper on "Great Swamps of the U. S." by Mrs. George Holley. The subject, "Southern States and Raw Materials" was ably handled by Mrs. Frank E. Drury. Musical numbers added much to the pleasure of the afternoon. Mrs. Georgia Greenleaf singing a group of songs and Miss Helen Holmes giving a piano solo.

A special feature of the program was a brief talk by Mrs. Herbert Capps of this city who told some of the facts about the tuberculosis tax. A social hour came later, and at this time the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Gave Tea at I. S. D.

The girls of the Mutual Improvement society of the State School for the Deaf gave a tea Tuesday afternoon in the Alice Cogswell Hall in honor of Supt. and Mrs. White, teachers and officers of the school. The society officers, Misses Helen Ballard, Ida Conway, Marie Carter and Edna Dirks, assisted by the members, welcomed the guests.

After a pleasant social hour delicious refreshments were served by the girls.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN PARIS

Mrs. Fannie Rees Pierce died not long since in Paris, France, according to information received by friends here. Mrs. Pierce was a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Rees, who for a number of years were residents of Jacksonville. The deceased was married to Rev. C. C. Pierce, at one time minister of the First Baptist church in this city. Later Mr. Pierce became a chaplain in the U. S. army.

Mrs. Pierce is survived by her sister, wife of John G. Morrison, a lawyer long resident here. A second sister is Mrs. Margaret Morrison, wife of Rev. Charles R. Morrison. The news of the death of Mrs. Pierce was received here in a letter written to Capt. F. C. Taylor.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT HOME IN WINCHESTER

Miss Margaret Hamilton Celebrates Twelfth Anniversary in Happy Manner—Another Winchester News of Interest.

Winchester, May 10.—Miss Margaret Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton, entertained a number of friends Monday afternoon at her home on West Cross street in honor of her twelfth birthday. The young folks enjoyed games and music during the hours from 4 to 6 o'clock. The young hostess received a number of very nice gifts. During the afternoon delightful refreshments were served. John Ritter and Mrs. Carl Ritter of Naples were business visitors here today. George Woodall and son Robert have returned from a business visit in Florida. Mr. Kirk Dyer, wife and daughter of Kankakee arrived Tuesday to visit the former's mother and sister. They were in Jacksonville Monday to attend the funeral of their uncle, the late A. A. Dyer.

The interior of the First State bank is undergoing some extensive repairs and improvements. A little son, Donald William, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Buckley Sunday.

New Home Sanitarium

Incorporated

A Private Surgical Hospital
Thru its Public Health Department Says:

Finding the Truth

"By the TRUTH ye are saved." Doctor, what is the matter with me? What is the cause of my sickness? Should be the object of your consulting a physician always. There is a CAUSE for every pain—for every improper action of a part—organ or system of the body. There is a cause for every DEATH. 75 per cent of sick people are treated under mistaken DIAGNOSES. That means that two thirds of DEATHS are prematurely brought on. To think of the thousands needlessly dying and many times more needlessly suffering and dragging thru life daily indelibly impresses upon us the great importance of "SEEKING THE CAUSE."

Money paid for guess work or for treatment without a proper diagnosis is money wasted. A proper EXAMINATION is the only way "to find the golden wedge." It costs more, 'tis true; it is worth more. You get about all you pay for in this world. If you seek "cheap service—guess work" you get cheap values. "Cheap Results."

No one knows better than the Doctor the value of his SERVICES; he charges accordingly. Cheap Service, like cheap goods produce cheap results, disappointments and waste. To better illustrate what we mean we will state one case from our records. Mrs. — came to the NEW HOME

SANITARIUM recently and said, "I came here to find out what is the matter with me, the cause of my suffering so long." Her history revealed the facts—that she had been suffering slow death for 21 years, had received treatment from 18 doctors, but had never once been EXAMINED. After going thru the route she was relieved of 33 large and small stones from the gall bladder. Now health and happiness have taken place of suffering and disappointment. (These the greatest curses of mankind.) Cheap service and guess work like the vain searches of Ponce de Leon in his efforts to find the "fountain of immortal youth" proved in reality a MYTH.

At the NEW HOME SANITARIUM is found all necessary means of finding the TRUTH. The real diagnoses of your ailment, getting at the CAUSE is first consideration. All else is easy.

A. H. KENNIEBREW, M. D.
Surgeon in Charge.

ENROLLING HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS NOW

Preparations Are Being Made for the Work of Next Year—Course in Home Economics and Agriculture Now Offered.

Copies of the High School Curricula were given out yesterday afternoon at the regular assembly. The curricula for next year have been added to the high school studies, namely: Home Economics (which includes two years of Domestic Art and two of Domestic Science) and agriculture course and a course in teaching.

The new high school building will contain separate rooms and laboratories for the work in agriculture. This work has been handicapped before, since the chemistry rooms had to be used for agriculture classes.

The course in civics has been extended so that it will continue through the year, and a course in Sociology has also been added. This latter addition rounds out the year's work in economics and sociology a course which is essential in the modern high school. The addition of courses in Pedagogy is also fine, since it prepares the high school student for teaching if he plans to follow that line of work.

It is the plan to enroll students in courses for next year before the close of the present year in order to ascertain how many students will be enrolled in the different courses and also to avoid the rush confusion which always heralds registration day and the beginning of school. The students are to take the blewks home, discuss the matter with parents and decide upon next year's course of study.

The high school authorities are advocating the plan whereby a student elects some one definite course of study and follows it thru to the end of his high school course. This makes a thorough, concise and really profitable four year education out of the high school curricula and students are urged to follow this plan.

Following are the courses for next year:

Freshman Year.
English, Algebra, Latin or French, Manual Training, Domestic Science, 6; Commercial Arithmetic, 7; General Science, 8; Agriculture, 8.

Sophomore Year.
English, Latin or French, Algebra, Geometry, Plane Geometry, Commercial Geography, Business Forms, Manual Training, Domestic Art, 6; Zoology, 8; Agriculture, 8.

Junior Year.
English, Public Speaking, 4; Latin or French, Modern History, Advanced Algebra, Chemistry, 1-3; Bookkeeping, 2; Typewriting and Shorthand, 2; Typewriting, 9; Commercial Law, Domestic Science, 6; Manual Training, Agriculture.

Senior Year.
English, Public Speaking, Latin or French, Modern History, Solid Geometry, Chemistry, Bookkeeping, Typewriting and Shorthand, Typewriting, Industrial History, Domestic Science, Manual Training, Agriculture.

Reference Explanation
R—Required. E—Elective. C—College Entrance.
1—General or Domestic Science Chemistry.
2—Bookkeeping or Stenography and Typewriting.
3—Must take Chemistry or Physics in Classical Course.
4—Regular, Business or Public Speaking, English, Business for Commercial Students.
5—Students taking three years of History may be excused by the Principal.

6—Domestic Science and Art may be taken separately. In Classical and Scientific Curricula only three units may be elected.
7—May be taken for one-half unit College Entrance credit if preceded by Algebra and Geometry.

8—In Teaching and Scientific Curricula either General Science or Agriculture and in Sophomore year either Zoology or Agriculture.
9—Typewriting may be taken without Shorthand but only 5 credit is allowed for the year's work.
Required subjects have priority over student elections from curricula.

General.
1—Regular work is four major subjects. Five subjects may be taken only in exceptional cases approved by the Principal. In no case unless the student has an average of 85 or above.
2—Sixteen units are required for graduation. Three years of English are required for graduation, but the student is required to take English each year he is in school. Requirements conform to those of North Central Association of High Schools and Colleges.
3—Classes in Music, Art and Gymnasium (including athletics) will be arranged.
4—Students who are poor in spelling and penmanship may be assigned to special work in these subjects.

5—Students must be able to write well enough to Grade 80 on the Ayers Writing Scale or must take writing until able to do so.
6—One curriculum should be selected and followed thru high school.
7—Credit will not be given for one semester of work in a subject that continues for two or more semesters unless it is accompanied by at least one full credit in the subject.
8—To get credit for one year of a language it must be offered along with at least two years of some other language.

AT NICHOLS PARK.

The past season Superintendent Hopper has had in use quite a number of hot beds in which he has propagated a number of plants, petunias, snap dragons, salvias and various others and is busy setting them in their proper places.

The south side of the large pavilion has been immensely improved by the removal of the large shrubbery which shut out ventilation and view. In its place have been set out dwarf evergreens which will be highly ornamental and at the same time will not have the objectionable features of the other growth.

The superintendent decided to clean out the monkey house and give it a thorough renovation and while he had the door open one of the monkeys took French leave. Generally the little creatures are glad to get back when out but not so this one for she skipped about right lively and finally was cornered in a waiting street car at the south end of the line, here a sack was thrown over him and he was brought back all right.

Great improvement has been made about the pond south of the lake. The banks have been well lined with broken rock, sod has been laid till now it is one of the handsome features of the park.

Much trouble has been experienced with the driveway on the margin of the lake east of the pavilion and west of the large toilets on the south side. It has finally been decided to have suitable concrete culverts, three in number constructed and the drives properly graded and bids were received for the culverts and necessary tile yesterday. The bids were:

S. G. Chumley, $235.
Simon Fernandes and Sons, $290.

Otis Hoffman, $299.50.

The contract was awarded Mr. Chumley.

The work and growth at the park has been greatly retarded by bad weather yet the place generally presents a very attractive appearance. Some little swans made their first appearance a short time since.

Charles W. Allen was a traveler from Quincy to the city yesterday.

A Question Most Often Asked Us

Why Can You Sell Cheaper?

We are asked and answer, this question daily, and for the benefit of those we don't see personally we take this opportunity and means to tell them

"WHY"

—FIRST, remember that this is 1921 and not 1919.
—THEN remember that a merchant buying goods today, or recently, gets the benefit of the tremendous slump in prices that has taken place.

—NOW, we do not own a dollar's worth of merchandise purchased at "wartime prices," nor did we buy "wartime quality."

—WE BOUGHT only merchandise of known and undoubted quality that we cheerfully can recommend to our friends, and as cheerfully stand back of. And, going into business so recently, we benefited by falling wholesale prices.

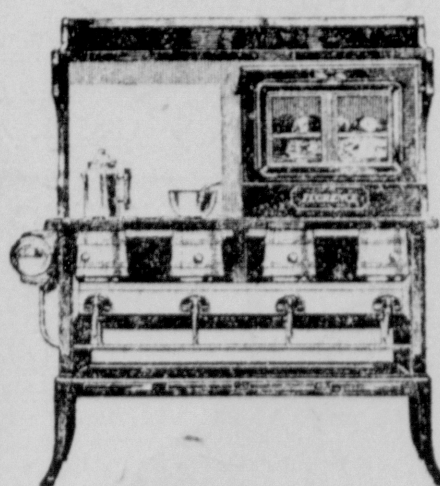

—AND LAST, we so laid out our store and arranged our stock that our selling expense is reduced to a minimum.

—WE ARE justifiably proud of our new store, and of our ability to "Sell Cheaper"—give our patrons the best for less.

Always to the forefront to take care of the needs of our patrons, we have just installed another new machine. It's a

Piston Aligning Device

A machine that accurately aligns the connecting rods of the pistons, giving each an accurate stroke, preventing the wearing of cylinder walls. We re-grind cylinders, making them absolutely accurate, then align the piston rods to a positively true stroke. The wear on cylinder walls most frequently is due to the faulty alignment of the connecting rods.

INDIANA CO-EDS HAVE TAKEN UP BASEBALL

Bloomington, Ind.—Indiana University co-eds have taken up baseball and are making serious effort to organize class teams. Helen Coblenz and Majorie Hull, coaches, have announced regulation rules will be followed with a possible revision of that pertaining to stealing home. Just what the objection is has not been explained; neither has a likely change in this playing code been advanced.

Four girls have shown exceptional style on the pitching mound. Dorothy Simering, Hazel Spencer, Ruth Baker and Grace Stanton have developed control and have proved effective in the training games. Katherine Yanick and Henrietta Rosenthal are the "Babe Ruths" of the candidates.

Just how far the girls intend to go with their baseball proclivities has not been announced. Nevertheless, they have acquired a liking for the national pastime and play the game seriously and strenuously. Students, faculty and Bloomington residents have become interested in the girls' playing and a big crowd daily attends the practices.

BABE RUTH GETS NINTH HOME RUN

DETROIT, May 10.—Babe Ruth made his ninth home run of the season today, driving the ball into the center field bleachers and sending Peckinpaugh home ahead of him, the hit giving New York a 2 to 1 victory over Detroit. Ruth's circuit drive was his only hit, Middleton striking him out in the fifth inning. Detroit scored in the ninth on Bush's triple and an out. Score:

BUSY DAYS AHEAD IN THE LEGISLATURE

Fate of Public Utilities Bill Soon to be Known—Notes on Assembly Prospects.

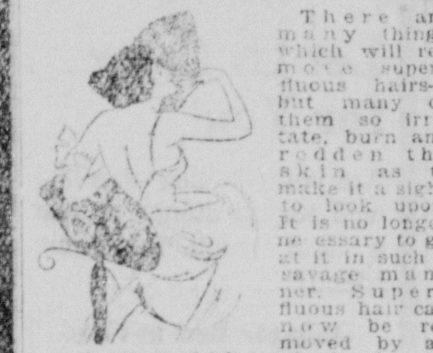

Springfield, Ill., May 10.—This week or the next ten days probably will spell the fate of the people's effort in the Fifty-second General Assembly to secure home rule of public utilities.

The administration bill, carrying out the will of the people as overwhelmingly expressed at the November polls is near its final test in the lower house. Its passage there seems assured. The battle in the senate gives promise of being harder fought, for the utility interests are centering their fight on the demand of the people for home rule in the upper house.

The administration bill simply carries out the pledges made by Governor Small in his pre-election campaign. Prepared under his direction, the measure provides for the repeal of the present utility act.

The abolition of the public utilities commission as created by the present law.

Hair Free Arm Pits

There are many things which will remove every hair from your arm pits—but many of them are so irritating that they will do more harm than good. The only safe and effective method is the use of a special cream which is applied to the skin and then removed by a special process. This cream is known as "S.S.S." and it is the only one that will remove every hair from your arm pits without any harm to the skin.

Skin Creams, to Accompany the Greatest Good, Should Be Freshly Made

Your complexion is not merely in the very outer skin. It is deeper than that. It is in that part of the skin immediately beneath the outer layer. Complexion creams which merely affect the outer layer are as a rule very inefficient. A method gaining wide use because of its tremendous success lies in the use of salicylic acid. This acid is mixed at home with a little glycerine and dissolved in water. This makes an exfoliating cream. The salicylic acid can be secured at any drug store in one-ounce packages. This is also very economical method. By liberal use of this article, a tremendous difference in the complexion is noted in a few days by the disappearance of mudiness, sallowness, red spots, freckles and other blemishes.

To Remove Blackheads Without Pinching or Squeezing

There is only one preparation sold exclusively for the instant removal of blackheads, without pinching or squeezing the flesh, and that is NEROLIN. Try this powder (not a soap) on your wash cloth tonight and see how quickly the blackheads are dissolved. Nerolin powder in original package is to be found at any drug store. Buy a package will last for some time.

ities commission as created by the present law.

The granting of home rule to Illinois municipalities. The holding as sacred of the right of contract, and preventing any utility corporation from invalidating a contract into which it has entered with any municipality.

The measure creates the Illinois Commerce Commission to supervise and control utilities operating outside municipalities, or in municipalities not adopting home rule. The commission will consist of seven members, and, if necessary, eight assistant commissioners. Additional members are provided that hearings may be held in the county where the case arises, and not only in Chicago and Springfield. Thus all the people may be heard.

Governor Small, in commenting on the bill, has said:

"The measure gives to the people of Illinois the power which they have demanded in the supervision and control of their utilities. I shall do everything I can to secure its passage and I hope the people of the state will see to it that their representatives in the General Assembly do not forget the fact that it is a measure which the people have demanded."

The Illinois State Fair advisory board has adopted rules to prevent any possible spread of tuberculosis among cattle at the state fair. Certificates showing that all cattle exhibited have been tested within ninety days previous to the fair must be presented to the superintendent of dairy and beef cattle. Any cattle brought to the fair, and not covered by certificate, must be placed under quarantine and housed under tents. Individual buckets for respective herds must be used. Use of public drinking troughs is prohibited.

The Lantz bills, backed by the farmers' organizations of the state and vigorously opposed by representatives of the Chicago board of trade who say that the bills would to all practical effects abolish the board, are nearing final action in the upper house. The bills have caused one of the hottest fights ever witnessed in the senate. Hundreds of farmers have appeared in Springfield to urge passage of the bills. Leaders of the farm organizations interested predict that the bills will pass the senate and that they have a fair chance of passing the house.

The Dunlap state constabulary bill is on the order of third reading in the senate. It may be called up for final action at any time. Senator Dunlap maintains that he has enough votes to pass the measure in the upper house. Delay in calling the measure up, he declares, is due to the fact that he cannot get all the supporters of the bill into Springfield on the same day.

Speaker Dahlberg still insists that the house will finish its work and adjourn sine die not later than May 28. Old timers, however, predict that the work will not be finished until the last minute of the last hour of the last day of grace, or midnight of June 30.

Governor Small and Director of Public Works Miller are still busy every nine in their power to bring down road building progress to a point where they think the state will be justified in going ahead with its road construction program. They want roads but insist that Illinois must "get a dollar's worth of roads for every dollar spent." The governor still insists that $50,000 per mile is a fair price to spend, and believes that he will soon be able to build roads at that figure. As he terribly stresses it, he does not believe in "Illinois farmers being compensated to exchange 100,000 bushels of corn for one mile of road."

SLAVERY FLOURISHES IN PARTS OF MOROCCO

Few White People Are Sold Into Slavery—Most of Traffic in Colored People.

Mellila, Morocco.—(By The A. P.)—Slavery and trading in slaves still flourishes in the unconquered districts of both the French and Spanish zones of Morocco. There have been stories that some of the slaves are white people but these reports are not borne out by inquiry.

Threats by the turbulent Moors of the Riff coast to sell into slavery a Spanish sailor boy, Francisco Sallud, unless his father with whom he had been wrecked and captured paid a ransom of 4,000 pesetas, led The Associated Press correspondent to make an inquiry into the question of the existence of enslaved white people in northern Africa.

The result of his inquiries shows that of recent years instances of white people being sold into slavery have been very rare, but there are slave markets for the sale and purchase of colored people in the districts to which French or Spanish rule have not reached. The traffic varies according to the economic situation of the tribesmen who, when they are in funds, do not hesitate to give high prices for slaves to be used as servants. Slaves so purchased become personal property of the family into which they are bought and are disposed of by testament when the proprietor dies.

However, it is customary for the purchaser to make a formal agreement before a competent legal authority to grant his slaves his liberty on his master's death, when the heirs have to give up all claim and at the same time to allow the liberated slave to live on and cultivate any portion of his dead master's land which may have been left him as one of the family.

A slave-owner may give his slave a wife from among his other slaves bought in the same way and the children of these marriages become slaves of the same owner unless he has signed the agreement already mentioned in connection with their parents.

The prices paid for slaves vary considerably. Generally the age is the chief consideration but, girl slaves, beauty calls for the highest prices. Seven hundred and fifty pesetas (about $100 at the present rate of exchange) is about the maximum figure ever paid—and this only in the case of a very young and handsome girl. Should the human merchants have passed the age of 35 or 40, the price paid is round about 400 pesetas, never more.

All purchases are made conditionally on the slaves proving satisfactory. A close examination is made of the slave's mouth to see whether he or she possesses a complete set of teeth. Proofs are required that the slave is neither weak-sighted nor deaf and dumb, while limbs are tested and muscles tried and every part of the body subjected to minute inspection in order to discover physical defects.

For women slaves three days' trial of their domestic aptitudes is demanded before the purchase is completed.

Such are the conditions of the slave trade in Morocco at the present day, and this is the fate from which Francisco Sallud escaped, probably by the payment of part of the ransom demanded, although exact information as to the transaction is unavailable.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS NOTES

Instances where the American Legion has lent a helping hand in times of catastrophe as well as in the ordinary routine of civil life are reported almost daily to national headquarters.

Texas and Arkansas Legion members assisting in the recovery of 100 bodies of victims of the recent Texas tornado as well as carrying on relief work among the survivors. The Williams post of the Legion at Clifton Forge, Va., has arranged to take up picks and shovels to help the city build a $10,000 playground. The spring municipal house cleaning in Kansas City, Mo., and Eunice, La., received fresh impetus when Legion members provided wagons and fatigue details for the work.

Seventy-five per cent of requests for information received at the American Legion's National Service Division in Washington are concerned with compensation and hospitalization claims. Other inquiries come in the following proportion: Vocational training, 10 per cent; retainer pay, 5 per cent; Liberty bonds and Victory medals, 1/2 per cent each; miscellaneous, 5 per cent.

With the holding of the United States Attorney General that the government will not be liable in the sending out of lists of men who evaded military service, the War Department will send the draft deserter lists direct to state departments of the American Legion. Departments in turn will distribute them to posts which will check them before they are released for newspaper publication, to make certain that no men are unjustly branded deserters and evaders.

"Every member of Organized Labor who is an ex-service man should join the American Legion and help his buddies in their fight to obtain recognition of their claims," says an editorial in the California Oil Worker, official newspaper of District Council No. 1, Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers of America.

"The charge has been made that the Legion was a capitalistic institution, but its very composition is enough to prove that such an accusation is absolutely baseless. The Legion's big job at the present time is to win decent treatment for several thousand disabled veterans and to provide employment for approximately 400,000 more who are now jobless. Nothing very capitalistic about that program, is there?"

Twenty-seven posts of the American Legion and 73 units of its Women's Auxiliary were formed during the week ended April 29, national headquarters reports. Washington led the states in posts organized, with Wisconsin second and Iowa third. Kansas led with ten units of the Auxiliary, followed by Iowa and Minnesota. New York has the largest number of Legion posts with 940; Illinois is second with 727 and Pennsylvania third with 617. A total of 201 units of the Auxiliary in Minnesota placed that state in the lead. Iowa is second with 180, followed by New York's total of 178.

Special American Legion editions have been issued by newspapers in all parts of the country as an aid to local posts in carrying on their activities. Newspapers in the following cities have given over one edition to the Legion: Memphis, Tenn.; Merrill, Wis.; Patchogue, N. Y.; Kingston, N. C.; Parkersburg, W. Va.; Green City, Mo., and Freeport, O.

More than one thousand members of the American Legion in Wichita, Kan., can be called out to attend special meetings or to answer emergency calls in a few minutes' notice. By a system of three relays on the telephone, all members of Thomas Hopkins post can be notified in less than half an hour, according to the post commander. The system works in this manner: The post adjutant calls ten members, who in turn call from five to ten men, the latter each notify ten more men. Each man has a card with the names and telephone number allotted to him.

Mutilation of a picture of former President Wilson by two brothers in Lodi, Cal., aroused the people of that city to such an extent that it was necessary for the members of the local American Legion post to protect the accused. A mass meeting presided over by the commander of the Legion post, found the brothers guilty of an unpatriotic act, and gave them thirty days in which to set their affairs in order and leave town. It was during this interim that their safety was guaranteed. Both, after the verdict of the trial, had signified their willingness to leave.

Between 6,000 and 7,000 maple trees are to be planted along the Lincoln Highway in St. Joseph and Laporte counties in Indiana, as a memorial to the soldiers from the two counties.

The Significance of Maintained Quality

OF highest significance to the motorist is the fact that during those times when the demands for gasoline have been so great as to threaten positive famines, Red Crown, the high grade motor gasoline manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), maintained its standard of quality in the face of every difficulty.

Impartial tests made on authority of the Government proved Red Crown surpassed the specifications set by the Government for its requirements of motor gasoline. These facts indicate the ideals of service which animate the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in every department of its business.

To maintain the quality of a product when the demand is normal is a general practice. It is when demand is pressing and the supply is low that insistence upon maintained quality is a true measure of a manufacturer's integrity.

To maintain the quality of each product at the point set by the technical staff is an outstanding characteristic of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Red Crown is a good example.

Another is Fortnite long-time burner oil. This product is used in railway signal lamps. These signals are often located at points remote from human habitation. For public safety their uninterrupted service is of the utmost importance. It is essential that the oil shall burn with a clear, bright flame for days at a time without attention.

During the blizzard of January, 1918, lamps filled with Fortnite, located high up in the Rocky Mountains, burned night and day during the ten days that traffic was tied up, and at the end of that period they were giving perfect service.

It is only by multiplying such records of quality and integrity of manufacture over a long period of years that the reader can grasp the degree of public confidence enjoyed by Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Fordson

For thirty-five years Henry Ford, a farmer's boy, has been working on the problem of a successful tractor for the farm, and for the past fourteen years has devoted much time and a vast amount of money to the development of the present Fordson Tractor. Today that Tractor is in use on nearly 200,000 farms and if you have any doubt as to the satisfaction it gives to those who are using it, call in and get the booklet, just issued by the Ford Motor Company, and called "The Tractor at Work" and read the testimony which is there given by the multitude of owners of Fordson Tractors. No evidence can be more conclusive than that of the man who actually knows by personal experience and this is the line of testimony carried in this little booklet. There is no cost for this booklet. If you cannot call for it, write, drop us a postal, and we will mail it to you without charge. It is so valuable you ought to have it because it is the open door through which the farmer will pass from the hard working drudge to the comparative comfort of the manufacturer. The Fordson makes it possible for the farmer to plan and direct, while the machine will do the work. It presents the widest latitude for the farmer to exercise his brain power and plan how he can get the most from the soil, knowing that the Tractor will do the hard work, do it better, do it quicker, and therefore do it more profitably. This means not alone in the cultivation of the soil, in the harvesting of the crops, but in a hundred and one different demands that are made for labor, cutting of ensilage and the filling of the silo; cutting of wood; operation of the washing machine; in the lighting of the house with electricity; supplying the house with running water; bringing to the farmer's wife and daughters the conveniences of the city, relieving them of much of the hard, unpleasant part of housework.

Napoleon's Ideal Woman

The great Napoleon, in response to a question once asked by a lady, replied 'My ideal woman is not the beautiful society belle or the butterfly of fashion, but the matron who reaches middle age in complete preservation of health, with stalwart children by her side.'

There are a great many women of middle age who owe their good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that famous medicine for female ills. For almost fifty years this wonderful medicine, compounded of roots and herbs, has been restoring suffering women to health.—Adv.

THE U. S. ROYAL CORD

A famous tire—and a famous tread. Acknowledged among motorists and dealers alike as the world's foremost example of Cord tire building. Always delivering the same repeated economy, tire after tire, and season after season.

The stripe around the sidewall is registered as a trade-mark in the U. S. Patent Office.

How you can measure tire value in 1921

OFTEN it's surprising the number of different tire views that come out in a chance talk at the curb or in the leisure of a friend's garage.

Almost every day you come across the man human enough to believe he can outguess the cut-price tag on "job-lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks."

His opposite is the hard-pan car owner who sticks year in and year out to a standard brand as the only rational economy.

Many will remember the scarcity of U. S. Tires last year.

A hardship at the time, but a benefit now. There are no U. S. Tires to be worked off—no accumulations—no forced selling of any U. S. brand—no shipping of tires from one part of the country to another to "find a market."

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Each one gets its share of U. S. Tires. There is a broad, constant, even distribution of U. S. Tires always going on from these Branches to the dealer.

Buy a U. S. Tire anywhere—in a community of 500 people or even less—and you get a fresh, live tire of current production—with all the original service and mileage the factory put into it.

The owner of a medium or light-weight car stands on equal ground with every other car owner.

Any United States Tire is a universal full money's worth—backed up with a leadership policy of equal quality, buying convenience and price for everybody.

"Any U. S. Tire is a universal full money's worth."

"The different tire views that come out in a chance talk."

RHEUMATISM
A Remarkable Home Treatment
Given by One Who Had It
In the spring of 1915 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-cutaneous Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have had it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally I found a treatment that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even been ridden, some of them 70 to 80 years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.
I want every sufferer from such forms of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power.
Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of your rhe

BOYCOTT BOGUS
THEATRICAL MANAGERS
London.—(By The A. P.)—
The Actors' Association of Great Britain has launched a campaign of boycott against bogus theatrical managers.

The kind of manager who is to be hunted down is the person who with little or no capital takes out a company on tour often paying scandalously low salaries. If the enterprise fails the bogus manager takes what he can from the receipts and departs, leaving the company stranded and penniless.

The Actors' Association says that this kind of thing is far more common than the public knows and cases of the kind are reported on an average two or three times a week.

MANHATTAN ISLAND IS NOW VALUABLE

Once Sold for $24 and Few Drinks of Firewater — The Firewater Now Nearly as Valuable as the Land.

NEW YORK.—(By The Associated Press.)—Manhattan Island, once sold by an Indian for $24 and a few drinks of firewater, has become so valuable that a tiny plot stretching only 31 feet along Broadway recently was leased for an annual rental of about $133 a square foot. Real Estate men said this was the highest figure for which land was ever rented here.

The site is at Broadway and Thirty Fourth street and extends about 50 feet along the latter. Several years ago a department store wished to buy the corner plot, having procured the land on both sides as a site of a skyscraper. But the owner would not sell, even for $1,000,000, and the big store had to erect its home around the small building.

A four story structure, housing on the ground floor a busy cigar store still remains on the valuable corner lot, on all sides lofty buildings rear their bulks of steel and stone. The new lessee, who will pay $3,500,000 for rent, taxes, and other expenses over a twenty one year period, plans to erect a narrow skyscraper on the triangular plot. A candy making corporation will occupy the building.

Twenty years ago Robert S. Smith, who owns the property, startled really men by paying $387,000 for the land, which has only 1,250 square feet of area. He had come to America with $5.75 from his native Russia in 1880. When he bought the property, he was told such a small strip was not worth the price and could never be profitable.

Within a few hours after the $3,500,000 lease was drawn up, another candy concern offered $10,000 more a year for the land but it was too late.

"FANCY" SALARIES OF RAILWAY OFFICERS

Referring to charges that the railways waste large amounts of money by paying "fancy" salaries and to a bill recently introduced in congress prohibiting payment of any salary of more than $15,000 a year without previous approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Railway Age in its current issue publishes some remarkable statistics regarding the relationship of the salaries paid railway officers to the total pay roll of the railways, their total operating expenses and their total earnings.

"Of all the charges made against the managements of the railways," says the Railway Age, "this one about excessive salaries is perhaps the most ridiculous."

All of the alleged fancy salaries are included in those paid to the "general officers." Because some of these officers receive $50,000 to $75,000 a year many think the total amount paid imposes a heavy burden on those who pay a heavy burden on those who pay the rates. The statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission show that if the railways in the year 1920 had not paid a dollar of salary to any of their general officers their operating expenses would have been $9.42 per cent of what they actually were.

The Railway Age publishes a table showing that in 1920 the total salaries of all officers were $92,460,835. This was about 2 1-2 per cent of the total pay of all officers and employees, which amounted to $3,698,216,351. It was 1.7 per cent of the operating expenses, which were $5,826,197,474. It was 1.2 per cent of the total earnings, which were $6,225,402,762. In other words, if none of the officers, general or divisional, had been paid anything the total operating expenses would have been 98.3 per cent as much as they actually were. The officers as a whole received only 1 1-2 cents on each dollar that the railways earned, and the general officers, including all those paid "fancy" salaries, received only about 7 1-2 mills out of each dollar earned.

The Railway Age estimates that officers paid $20,000 or more receive 2.3 mills out of each dollar earned, while general officers, including all those getting "fancy" salaries, receive 1.6 mills out of each dollar earned.

"In 1916," says the Railway Age, "the salaries of all officers, general and divisional, were 3.6 per cent of the total pay roll, (including both the salaries of officers and the wages of employees;) in 1917, 3.9 per cent; in 1918, 2.5 per cent; in 1919, 2.7 per cent, and in 1920, 2.5 per cent. In other words, in these years the wages of the employees amounted to from 96.1 to 97 1-2 per cent of the total pay roll."

"In 1916 the salaries of all officers were 2.2 per cent of the total operating expense; in 1917, 2 per cent; in 1918, 1.6 per cent; in 1919 and 1920, 1.7 per cent. In other words, if not a dollar of salary had been paid in these years to a single officer the total expenses would have been from 97.8 per cent to 98.4 per cent of what they actually were."

"In 1916 and 1917 salaries of all officers were 1.4 per cent of the total earnings; in 1918, 1.3 per cent, and in 1919 and 1920, 1.5 per cent. In other words, in these years, out of each dollar that the public paid for all kinds of railroad transportation, the officers as a whole received from 1.3 cents to 1 1-2 cents.

"In recent discussions it repeatedly has been suggested that if wages were reduced the salaries of officers should be reduced in proportion. What have been the relative increases in salaries, on the one hand, and wages on the other, since 1916? In 1916 the average salary of a general officer was $4,508, and in 1920 it was $5,542, an increase of 20.7 per cent. In 1916 the average salary of a division officer was $1,999, and in 1920 it was $3,319, an increase of 66.1 per cent. (The average pay of passenger locomotive engineers and motormen in 1920 was $3,310, or only $9 less than that of division officers.) Between 1916 and 1920 the average compensation of employees increased 104 per cent, and it is now almost 114 per cent more than in 1916. Since the advances in salaries have been relatively much less than in wages, and have not at any time approached the increases in the cost of living, while the advances in wages have exceeded them, it fair to suggest that if wages are to be reduced salaries shall be reduced in the same proportion?"

C. N. Priest, distributor for the FRANKLIN CARS has engaged the services of H. M. Hopkins to take charge of the sales department in this and adjoining districts. Mr. Priest expects in the next few days to have a first class mechanic in charge of the service department.

TAYLOR CAN EAT ANYTHING NOW

Illinois Man Didn't Eat a Square Meal in Months Before Taking Tanlac.

"I am now enjoying good health for the first time in years, and I owe it all to Tanlac," said George W. Taylor of Lacon, Ill.

"For several years before I got Tanlac I had been steadily going down in health. My kidneys bothered me day and night and I had constant pains in my back, which made it impossible for me to stoop over again without suffering agony. My digestion was poor and for months at a time I never ate a square meal."

"I was so nervous and restless that many a night I rolled and tossed all night long. I actually fell off thirty-five pounds, was just fading away to nothing and didn't have a bit of strength left. In fact I was right on the brink of a complete physical breakdown and saw no hope of ever being well again."

"But the bright side of life turned to me again as soon as I began taking Tanlac, and in two weeks' time I saw an astonishing improvement in my condition. My stomach and kidneys are now in fine condition, my nerves are steady, I am eating three big meals a day and sleeping like a log at night and feel as well right now as I have felt in twenty five years. In fact, I am a well man and feel so good over what Tanlac has done for me I want to tell everybody about it."
